COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

A chemical brush control conference was held at the Augusta Armory on October 14th, at which the town was represented by your Town Manager, and selectmen, John Carter and Wallace Saunders. This meeting was attended by about 500 persons who were interested in the chemical control of brush and weeds. The program was sponsored by several utilities, railroads, the Highway Commission, and the Maine Municipal Association. The panel consisted of 11 speakers. Each spoke on a particular phase of brush control, such as development, use in agriculture, effect on wild life, improved wildlife habitat, plant life, economics, uses by utilities and municipalities. Following the speakers a question and answer period was held. It appeared from the questions that the principal complaint was from the brownout of leaves following the spraying.

Following the conference a visit was made at the office of the Association of the B. H. H. As a result of this meeting an engineer will make a complete survey of the existing strip with recommendations for longitudinal and transverse grades and establish a proper drainage system. A preliminary report will be made in September by the engineer indicating that the strip is 200 feet by 2000 feet. From the results of the survey a definite program of construction will be planned to present to the next annual town meeting.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Mexico at Gould Saturday.

Gould Academy will entertain Mexico at Alumni Field on Saturday with the game starting at 2:00 P. M. The Pintos are decidedly favored to win against the Huskies, who dropped a one-sided 40-7 game to Bridgton here last week. The Academy eleven will be strengthened by the return of Fred Dallinger who was injured in the Lyndon game two weeks ago. However, the Huskies need their added strength to the line rather than in the backfield where Dallinger has been a good ground gainer all season.

Alan Bailey Ordway of 15 Pine St. Kittery, is one of the more than 70 candidates competing for positions on the 1958 Yale Freshman football squad. The yearlings played their first game of a six-game schedule on Oct. 18 with Cornell at Ithaca.

Ordway prepared for Yale at Gould Academy, where he played varsity tackle for two years and captained the team his senior year. In 1956 and 1957 he was an All-State Honorable Mention.

Bridgton Takes Gould 44-7.

Bridgton High handed Gould Academy its worst beating in many years as they scored 6 TD's, 3 by rushing and 3 in the air. The visitors scored in every period. Bridgton took the opening kick off to their own 32 yard line and sustained a 66 yard march with K. B. born smashing off tackle from forward out for the first TD.

Ward scored twice in the second period, the first time on an 88 yard pass, Tom Austin to Ward, after a sustained march of 60 yards. Three plays later a Gould fumble gave Bridgton the ball on the 40 and 18 yard line. To just five plays Ward drove over from the 40 yard line.

In the third period Bridgton held on the 40 yard line and marched 60 yards with the TD pass a Tom Austin to G. Can. and pass from 24 yards out.

In the fourth period Bridgton continued its relentless drive. At the beginning of the period the winners marched 70 yards and scored on a pass Austin to P. Gallinari for a 13 yard TD play. The final score came on a march of 68 yards with D. Pulkinen going off tackle for 6 yards.

Gould's only score came in the first period after the Huskies had marched 70 yards with Summer going through center for a 27 yard TD jaunt. Swallow tied the score by rushing the extra point. It was the only time the Huskies were in the ball game.

Bridgton made 16 first downs to Gould's 10. Bridgton passed 8 times and made 3 of them good for 52 yards and 3 TD's.

The Huskies passed 8 times and connected five times for a total of 55 yards. The Bridgton line completely outplayed the Academy line, which made the big difference.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

THE TURN

One cannot say precisely when the turn will come to the north. The turn of the nation. Smoggy during the latter half of the month there is usually a change in the weather. It is not recognized by the meteorologists, but the countryman knows autumn has two distinct seasons—early fall and late fall.

After the line storm in September there is frequently a period of two to four weeks when brooding calmness blesses the countryside. The growing season ends; crops and apples ripen on the bough; and the pigment of colored leaves begins to show on wooded hills and valley woodlands.

Then comes the turn. Perhaps there is a three-day driving cold rain that strips the leaves; perhaps it is a killing black frost that frustrates the date bars, date nut bread, and fruit were served to make use of foods native to the country, and coffee was made by the Early fall is over; now it is late fall. This is the turn.

King Size Food Canning!

THORNTON, CALIF.—A new method of vacuum-packing food in 55-gallon drums, replacing ordinary shipping cans that hold less than a gallon, has been perfected by a steel shipping container manufacturer, a food equipment maker and a food canner. It promises lower processing costs and better food quality, according to the developers. Peaches, apricots and tomato concentrates have already been shipped in the sterile steel drums from Thornton Canning Company here to some 30 food manufacturing plants around the nation.

Rheem Manufacturing of New York and Thermovac Inc., of Stockton, Calif., combined research and development efforts over many years to produce the king-size food "cans" and vacuum-packing process. In the picture above, L. W. Evans, Rheem vice president, and Frank A. Ballato, Thermovac president, compare the drums with a conventional No. 10 can. Sixty-two of these contain only 50 gallons.

Expected additional benefits are reduction of food storage space, distribution of canning activity far from field and orchard, elimination of need for refrigeration, reduced waste from container surface "cling" and time saved in opening and emptying containers.

The Maine Extension Service works with farm, rural non-farm, and urban families. Better farming, homemaking, and living in Maine are the goals.

discussed in the afternoon. At the business meeting the following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. Annie Morgan, Mrs. Harriet Farrington and Mrs. Catherine Morgan. Miss Stetson reported that second prize of $15 was won on the Fair exhibit. It was voted to buy stainless steel cutlery from the money. Mrs. Ceco Billings reported that shirt-making classes had been started with seven women attending. The next meeting on "Gifts from the Kitchen" will be held Nov. 13.

Conservation Farming In Oxford County

By Lyman W. Jacobson

Big drainage project being planned in Fryeburg. Surveys have been completed for a 4500 foot drainage ditch in Fryeburg. The ditch will effect the land of some six land owners. These include John Weston, Fryeburg Academy, Robert Sanborn, Dr. Kenneth Dore and Joel Leadbetter. Over 4500 cubic yards of soil will be excavated. Twenty five to thirty acres of land will be effected immediately. The ditch will act also as a main outlet for future drainage work, which could effect and improve over one hundred acres.

Louis Brown of South Rumford is all set to install 350 feet of tile drainage. This job will drain a piece of land that has been bothering Louis for years. Louis is looking forward to spending less time in handling that piece of land.

Anthony Mendes of Dixfield plans to do some land smoothing or leveling this fall. Several "pot holes" are spoiling drainage and efficient operation of an otherwise good field.

A conservation farm plan was recently completed for Col. Harry Lentz (Ret.) of Hacienda Stables, East Fryeburg. Col. Lentz plans extensive pasture renovation, strip reseedling, a farm pond and possibly tile drainage.

The supervisors of Oxford County Soil Conservation District are making plans for their annual Co-operators meeting. Bert Buck and Robert Hastings are on the committee. They plan to offer a good supper and an interesting speaker. The meeting will be held in early December. The exact date to be announced later.

HOME CANNING GUIDE YOURS FOR THE ASKING

The Home Canning Guide by Dr. Kathryn Briwa, Extension Foods Specialist, is available to anyone requesting it. This circular gives careful directions for canning fruits and vegetables both in glass and in tin by the boiling water bath and the pressure cooker methods. For satisfactory results methods and processing time must be followed exactly. Approximate yields of products are given so that you may know how many quarts of a canned fruit or vegetable you will get from a bushel. Directions for making the syrup needed in canning fruits are also included as are time tables for the boiling water and pressure cooker methods.

Maine raised more than 50 million broilers in 1957 with a farm value of about $7 million dollars.

Find the strength for your life...

Help is only a prayer away

WORSHIP TOGETHER THIS WEEK

Somewhere in your town a man you may have never seen waits hopefully for you.

He is a minister. A priest. A rabbi. A man used to speaking out... making decisions . . . taking action for himself, for his congregation and his community.

But where you're concerned, he can only wait and hope you will come. He holds something in trust for you—the powerful, crucial first introduction to Faith. And he is anxious to pass it on.

The strength and confidence of Faith can mean many things to many men . . . and to the families who count on them.

So together with your family start to find that Faith this week.

Children Learn Right Habits In Novel Court

By Joanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

A "SAFETY and Courtesy Court" in Miami Beach, Fla., is helping primary grade youngsters "earn" bad driving practices set by their parents.

The court was established at the Biscayne Elementary school after a municipal court judge noted that many parents neglected to teach their children the correct safety habits by persons other than their parents.

With the approval of the school principal and the P-T-A and with the cooperation of the local Optimist Club and the Jaycees, the judge set up a "Safety and Courtesy Court" for pupils who violate traffic rules as pedestrians or bicycle riders.

A group of outstanding students serve as judge, attorneys, jurors and bailiffs. They attend sessions of the sponsoring judge's court to learn the fundamentals of legal procedure.

Whether a child should be summoned to the student traffic court, crossing a street against a red light, disobeying a safety patrol boy and other similar violations usually result in a summons or "arrest."

The penalty set by the court is the writing of an essay on safe pedestrian and driving practices.

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our midst our beloved brother, J. Cleveland Bartlett, and in view of the loss we have sustained in our grange and community—

Therefore, be it resolved, that it is a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that, in regretting his passing, we mourn for one who was a faithful, diligent, and cheerful worker and friend, and one who will be greatly missed by all.

Therefore be it further resolved that we spread a copy of these resolutions upon our records; have one copy printed in the Bethel Citizen and send a copy to his family.

After River Grange No. 145 extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

MAN'S RECIPE

BENNY ACRES BAKED BEANS
A man has certain responsibilities in this world, and this one-brother, Benny Acres, would not feel he has done his full duty unless he has strayed the need of baked beans for Saturday supper and Sunday breakfast.

I like my beans juicy on Saturday night and I want them served on buttered white bread. Good white bread soaked with rich bean juice is delicious eating. Use your brown bread, soaked, with spider-warmed crisp and crunch beans for Sunday breakfast. Before you reject this idea, try it at least once.

Pick over and wash a pound of beans. Soak them overnight; pour off the water in morning and cover with fresh water. Bring to a boil, and as the water comes to a boil, add one half teaspoon soda. Par-boil the beans for an hour—until skins are loose. Skim off the froth from time to time.

Put beans in pot—preferably a pot 10 years old or more. In a quart of hot water mix the following: one half cup white sugar, one teaspoon ginger, one and a fourth teaspoons mustard, one eighth teaspoon pepper, one eighth pound butter or margarine, three tablespoons molasses, one tablespoon maple syrup or maple-flavored syrup, two teaspoons salt, one fourth teaspoon thyme, one fourth teaspoon parsley flakes. Mix these well in the water and pour into the bean pot.

Add enough water to cover the beans. Add water as needed during the day. Bake at 275 for 10 hours. I know what you are saying, but before you condemn me too, severely for not using salt pork, just try this method once. Drop me a line and tell me what you think of these beans.

Me, thoughtless?

If You Forget Your Pants, your thoughtlessness could be embarrassing, but the oversight can be quickly and completely rectified. If you are careless with fire, your thoughtlessness could cost you your shirt too, and it may take over 100 years to rectify the damage. No good citizen wants to believe that 110 caused a forest fire. Yet 2 out of 10 forest fires are man caused. Be doubly careful this year.
